

SHEN WEI DANCE ARTS

This "modern masterpiece" inspired his contribution to the Olympic Opening Ceremonies...

LIMITED ENGAGEMENT

CONNECT TRANSFER II

"An ingenious synthesis of dance, music, and visual art."

New York Times, Anna Kisselgoff

...and now it comes home to New York.

On 8.8.08, the world watched as modern dance took center stage at the Olympic Opening Ceremonies with movement inspired by Shen Wei's landmark work, Connect Transfer. This December, Shen Wei returns home to lead his company in a limited engagement of Connect Transfer II—reimagined for a tour of modern art museums—at Judson Memorial Church, historic epicenter of postmodern dance.

Virtuosic, explosive, utterly unpredictable...Dancers emerge onto a stark white canvas, immersed in liquid color, "whirling between heaven and earth at every possible angle" (Los Angeles Times). Forty-five minutes later: a manifesto in paint revealed. Immediately following each performance, Shen Wei scores that canvas for auction. Gather near, bid, and take home a piece of living art. Join us for this unique event!
